

The storyteller visits Boaz

STAFF PHOTO BY SHELLEY F. SMITH

Nationally known storyteller David Joe Miller entertained students at Boaz Elementary School Monday morning, capturing the attention of the children.

By SHELLEY F. SMITH Managing Editor

The cafeteria at Boaz Elementary School was full of students early Monday morning as they gathered to listen to nationally known storyteller David Joe Miller.

Miller made appearances at BES, Corley Elementary, Sloman Primary, Asbury Jr.

High and Albertville schools Monday as part of an event sponsored by the Marshall County Retired and Senior Volunteer Program.

"When I tell you a story, your mind and heart open up. With an open mind and an open heart, I can teach you anything," Miller said.

During his 12-year career, Miller has performed for

Disney Productions, former Vice President Al Gore and his family, the Smithsonian Institute and other festivals throughout the Southeast. He is the former staff storyteller for the National Storytelling Association, which is now known as the International Storytelling Center.

■ See STORY, Page 3A